

SUBIACO STONE WORKS

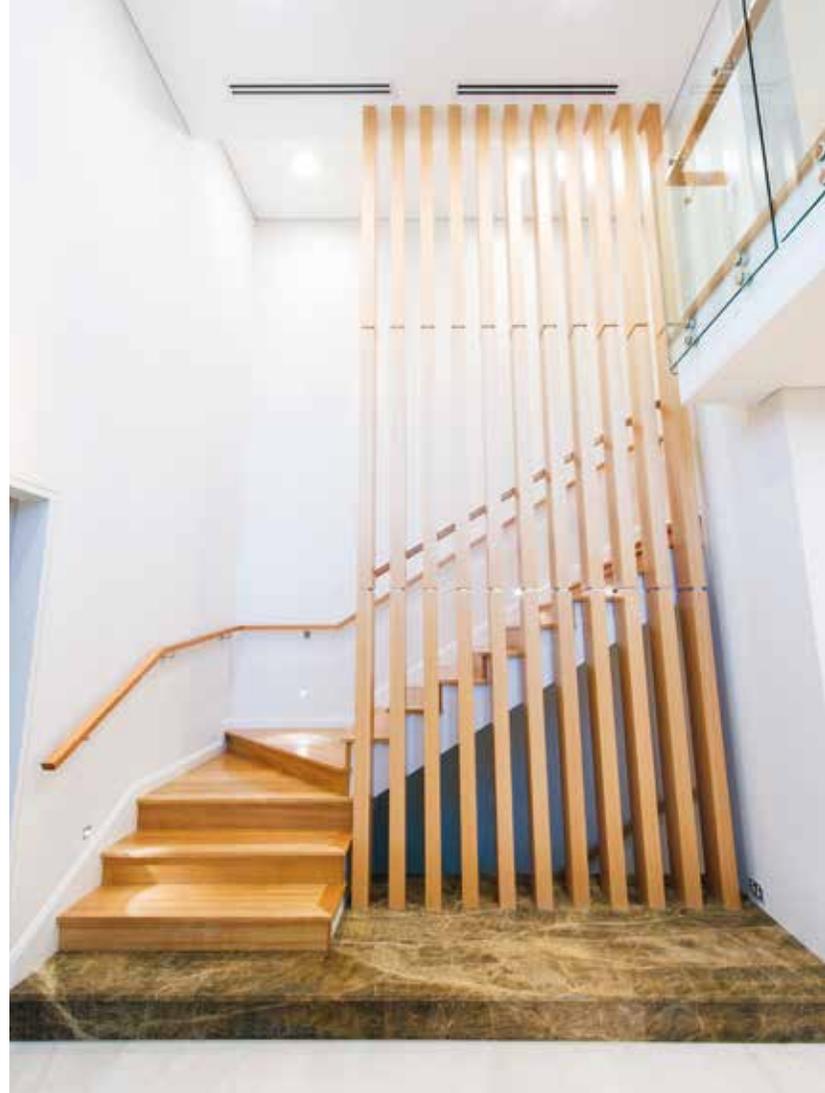

FASHIONABLE AND FUNCTIONAL

FINE CRAFTSMANSHIP AT ITS BEST

Designed by Sergio Alvarez, managing director of Subiaco Stone Works and director/designer of Klever Kitchens, and handcrafted by the skilled team at Subiaco Stone Works, this kitchen exhibits a classic, elegant and stylish design with a modern twist.

What sets this kitchen apart is the unique Caesarstone 'Snow' island benchtop – a work of art in itself. It displays a stone wrap-around on one side, and the surrounding 80mm fascia complements the structure to give the countertop the illusion of floating. There are two waterfall ends that run off each other and a mitred stone box lit up with LED lighting, which is perfect for displaying ornaments.

The 'wow' factor lies in the stunning use of Carimbo Quartz to create an upstand feature that looks as if it's coming through the Caesarstone top. Despite the delicate nature of the Carimbo Quartz, the end result that the Subiaco Stone Works team achieved is flawless. The angle adds to its visual appeal and ties in precisely with the stone waterfall.

Not only does the upstand look stunning, it also conceals the sink area for a streamlined and tidy look. The inspiration to use Carimbo Quartz was taken from its use in the fireplace hearth and entrance landing, to complement the rest of the home's interior. The elegance and neutral colour variations of the natural stone brings a sense of opulence to the benchtop, which adds an element of luxury. It's no wonder the project has been nominated for an award by the Master Builders Association (MBA).

Subiaco Stone Works also designs and builds vanity and laundry tops, stone splashbacks, steps and staircases, fireplace hearths, surrounds and mantles, stone dining and coffee tables, stone tiles and more.

An unmatched eye for detail and second-to-none service puts Subiaco Stone Works at the top of its game. With a fulltime in-house designer on-board, the company can assist with drawings, colour selections, and unique and functional design ideas that suit clients' needs and fulfil their dreams.

The company services all Perth metropolitan areas; however, no job is out of the question. Upholding a strong reputation for excellent customer service and utilising the best technology and highly-skilled craftspeople, Subiaco Stone Works is guaranteed to exceed every client's highest expectations.
